DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Szupillo (US 4180723).

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sako et al. (US 4156127).

Sako discloses a liquid heating device comprising a heater, said heater having an inlet for liquid to flow in therethrough and an outlet for heated liquid or vapor to flow out therethrough, said heater having its front and rear end respectively clamped by a tube clamp (12), said tube clamps respectively connected with a conductive wire, said heater quickly generating high temperature when said conductive wires are electrified by a control circuit, said heater making the liquid inside heated or boiled or vaporized quickly, wherein said heater is provided with a temperature detector for detecting the temperature of said heater, so that said control circuit can control said heater with great accuracy, wherein said heater is provided with an insulating tube (6) made of an insulating material and having a lengthwise through hole for liquid to flow therethrough, said insulating tube having its outer surface covered with an electric heating membrane (7) which has its front and rear ends respectively provided with an electrode.
